

Horoscope

Your Stars
With Alison Moroney "Author of the Astrology Guide" series.
Email: astrology@alisonmoroney.com
Web address: www.alisonmoroney.com
Phone: 07-3385 0635

Aries
You know how to get into the spirit of things during Tuesday and Wednesday because purpose is infused with your heart and mind: this is a time of accomplishment. You have a strong feeling of where you want to go with your life during October 13-15, with the base you have already established providing the most important stepping-stone. Autumn and winter 2009 aroused your ambitions and brought new friendships your way. All of this is going to be rather exciting during the last few months of 2010.

Taurus
Your mind seems to be shrouded by emotion during October 12, 13, likely promoting you to philosophise about life. You need to get your head around budget considerations too. Your mind has an amazing ability to wander free whilst still harvesting important information about your experiences during October 13-15. It is also likely that a desire to travel will be stimulated. The three months surrounding December 6 cap off a crazy eighteen-month period for you where career and life directions are concerned. Expect positive change.

Gemini
All your emotions seem to be invested in another individual during Tuesday and Wednesday, perhaps because of personal or financial dependencies. Ethics could be an issue. Your deepest emotions tend to be tightly controlled during October 13-15, as there may be feelings of emotional vulnerability. You need a framework through which to interact with others. Mid-2009 and the last quarter of 2010 are strangely linked in time through similar stellar influences. What started then thrives now, promoting career growth and academic accomplishments.

Cancer
You invest your heart and soul in your work during October 12, 13, enabling you to make good process. You need to keep a balance as overdoing it can cause health problems. October 13-15 highlights interaction with others: the closer the contact the better. This may not be easy, as the people you are drawn towards do not readily display their feelings. Cancerians will possess a sleight of hand where money matters are concerned, working situations to their advantage during the next three months. A turning point occurs on December 6.

Leo
Your desire for freedom to enjoy life is stimulated strongly during October 12, 13, leading you to places of entertainment and relaxation, as well as involvement with people you love. There is a good chance you will not be feeling quite up to scratch during October 13-15. You should cater to your needs, along with making yourself less vulnerable. Once bitten, twice shy. When will you learn? The three months surrounding December 6 will see you revisiting a lesson you should have learned during autumn and winter 2009.

Virgo
Much of your attention is focused on the home or a property matter during October 12, 13 as this is where one of your objectives lies. Emotionally, you're on a high. You will be in the mood for doing what pleases you during October 13-15. This can be quite an enjoyable phase for your regular recreational interests. During the next three months you seem to be reliving discordant conditions affecting relationships that dominated May to August 2009. Health issues may be a factor.

Libra
As you traverse your path in life, you are drawn to the intricacies of achieving a particular aim during October 12, 13, making this an excellent time for plans and negotiations. The ties to home and family are particularly strong during October 13-15, encouraging you to spend more time with family members or attending to basic needs. The three months from October 14 will echo the vibrant conditions that enlivened your working life 15-18 months ago. You will be capitalising on opportunities for change.

Scorpio
You possess an excellent perspective of finances and ethics during October 12, 13, making for wise decisions. There is an ability to glean good advice too. There is fluidity to thought and action during October 13-15, allowing for pleasant contacts and experiences. Friendships will contribute value to your common daily experiences. The call of independence beckons the children of Scorpio parents, and will be most welcome. Your love life is quite spicy now, capturing your imagination.

Sagittarius
Sagittarius is a restless soul during Tuesday and Wednesday as emotional disquiet contributes to the changing circumstances of your life then. You question life. You need to attend to your regular housekeeping where money is concerned during October 13-15. Small losses are possible through carelessness during this time. Over the next three months you will be building on plans you laid during May to August 2009. These focus on innovative changes within the home.

Capricorn
Tuesday and Wednesday have the potential of being disappointing as another individual contributes to your displeasure. You need time to think things over. Impressions certainly have a strong impact on you, especially when they originate from people. You may not show this, but those closest to you should be aware of how you are feeling. You are full of bright ideas during the three months from October 14, and expect to make the most of those dreams you began implementing 15-18 months ago.

Aquarius
The working environment offers many small pleasures and accomplishments during Tuesday and Wednesday, even if it is only the company you keep. There is a tendency to clam up during October 13-15, especially with hiccups to the smooth running of your life. You may want to reassess these areas. Your aspirations for financial independence are a step closer to realisation during the last few months of 2010. These were initially fostered during May to August 2009.

Pisces
Your star shines brightly during October 12, 13, making it difficult to be overlooked. These few days have the potential of bringing professional and personal advancement. Whatever else is going on in your life during October 13-15, this time provides some fun opportunities and inspiration to achieve. A friendship lights up your life then. Anxious moments seem to stretch into weeks as you come to terms with unexpected problems that first manifested during the autumn and winter of 2009.

Young stars of future

• John Field, coach of the Slazenger Bradman Cricket Clinic with the boys and girl participants, Kel Evans (front left), Roly Jones-Whitten, Lachlan Sims, Jessica Robertson, Luka Hodder, Jack Allen, Ross Baker. Back row: Jack Matthews, Bryden Unicomb, Rohan Haak, Liam Harley, Lincoln Rixon-Petty, Isaac Walker, Matthew Sims, Nicholas Redwin, Nick Forester and Angus Lingard at the Sapphire Coast Anglican College cricket ground.

THE young participants in the Slazenger Bradman Cricket Clinic at the Sapphire Coast Anglican College last week not only were coached on all practical and theory aspects of the game, but also learnt a lot about Australian Legend Sir Donald Bradman.

It was his wish that the Bradman Foundation operate cricket coaching clinics and for 21 years they have been held, but this is the first time in Bega.

The clinics not only provide young cricketers with the skills in the technical and physical requirements of cricket, but also the mental and tactical elements with strong emphasis on the spirit of the game.

John Field, the clinic's coach, said "we instil values to play the game with courage, honour, humility, integrity and determination as evidenced in Sir Donald's words and deeds".

Sessions were held on Bradman's historical record, the laws and spirit of cricket, scoring and correct practice procedures and historic DVDs of the Bradman era were shown in the breaks.

At the end of the clinic on Friday afternoon Mr Field presented Angus Lingard with the award for most outstanding participant and Bryden Unicomb, Roly Jones-Whitten and Jack Allen also received individual awards.

In the 'Lane' to success

BEGA Showjumping Club junior rider Lane Clarke has once again showed what a real talent he is at the recent Australian Youth Showjumping Championships held in Camden.

At only 12 years of age Lane just scraped into the age bracket of the open junior category.

The junior events are open for riders 12 to 17 years of age.

For obvious reasons, it is quite normal for junior classes to be dominated by riders toward the higher end of the age bracket, but Lane has proven that he will be a force to be reckoned with throughout the next six years of his junior career.

Among the eight prizes that Lane won, five of them were first places.

Lane opened the tally by winning the warm-up round of the Category A FEI International Jumping Challenge by a massive 10 seconds.

This FEI event is a world-wide competition where identical showjumping courses are set up all over the world so that scores and times can be compared.

Category A, the highest category, is 1.20 metres high.

Lane elected to compete in this four round competition on his father's horse GH Tigerlilly.

The combination finished the challenge with another third and fourth placing to finish a very creditable fourth overall.

• Bega's Lane Clarke riding Clarsym Beachdoll showed great form at the recent Australian Young Showjumping Championships.

Lane also competed for the first time in the open junior classes.

There were over 50 entries in these classes.

Out of the six classes, Lane won three of them on two different horses.

An outstanding effort for anyone in these highly competitive classes, let alone a 12-year-old!

Lane won the first class, the speed class Table A2 on board Clarsym Beachdoll who is owned by Lane's grandfather, Les Symons.

Lane also won the accumulator and the power and speed competitions riding GH Tigerlilly.

The Open Junior classes also went over 1.20m in height.

Lane showed his versatility by taking two young horses in the Child Jumper category which was 90cm in height.

Lane ended the show by winning the Child Jumper Grand Prix with GH Rambo.

Lane was delighted to be presented a beautiful rug for winning the Grand Prix class.

Lane's family was kept very busy assisting with competing in so many classes over the three day event.

Lane took four horses to the event.

GH Tigerlilly is a six-year-old brown mare who is normally campaigned very successfully by Lane's father, Brett.

Clarsym Beachdoll is a five-year-old chestnut mare who is owned and has also enjoyed a lot of success with Les Symons.

GH Rambo is a five-year-old bay gelding that Lane has brought on himself and is his own horse.

GH Suey is a four-year-old bay mare owned by Sue Jennings of Bega who is only in her first season of competition.

All of these horses have been home-bred, the GH prefix stands for the sire of the three horses Grasshopper, a stallion once campaigned by Brett.

Clarsym Beachdoll was sired by a local stallion also, JB Excellence.

Lane thanks his Mum, Dad and Pop for all of their help and support over the weekend.

Bega Showjumping Club congratulates Lane and his family on a tremendous effort.